

Wine Spectator

93

$45

Westerhold

Pinot Noir Sonoma Coast 2019

Shows some maturity, with singed chaparral, licorice root and smoldering red tea notes out in front of a core of lightly mulled raspberry and black cherry fruit. Reveals a nice sous-bois accent that underscores the finish, with nice range. Drink now through 2030. 350 cases made.

James Molesworth

Senior Editor and Special Projects Director, New York